

TYRRELL COUNTY CLASSES

We are partnering with Pocosin Arts School of Fine Craft in Columbia to offer two subjects so you can explore crafts that may be of interest. If you enjoy the experience you'll want to enroll in Pocosin's more in depth offerings. See all that they have going on: <https://pocosinarts.org>

Spend the morning in Pocosin Arts pottery studio, learning to make functional mugs and cups. This three-hour introductory course will immerse participants in hand-building techniques, surface design, and includes a fun and short history of ceramics. Participant's creations will be available for pick up a week after class. Materials and firing included in the price. (Students living closer to the BCCC Washington Campus may pick up their creation at Building 8.) Register & pay online.
